Heightened in Brazil preference to attention of Cuban doctors

27/06/2018

The clear preference to the attention of the Cuban doctors who give services in the Unique System of Health (SUS, for its acronym in Spanish) is emphasized here by the periodic Popular Brazil in its edition number 56.

It is this what verified diverse surveys made by academic and scientific entities, like the State University of Campinas (Unicamp) and the Foundation Oswaldo Cruz, it pointed out the publication and remembered the beginnings, in 2013, of the program More Doctor thrown by the president of that time DilmaRousseff.

The Cuban physicians - it recalled - were harassed, disrespected; they slandered by the Brazilian medical entities, with the support of the big average, insensitive ones to the need for most of the people to be provided with professionals of the health arranged to a competent, humanist and united work.

“Quickly, thanks to the competition, the ethics and the professional dedication, the Cuban doctors - principally the women - happened of damned to preferred by the users of SUS”, exalted Popular Brazil.

The Cuban doctors, who should have faced the racism and the machismo with which they were got for Brazilian entities, are decorated now by the absolute, spontaneous and sincere preference of their patients, who are afraid that the blow that knocked down Rousseff affects to a program which approval index overcomes 90 %, it annotated.
