

Miami: Guaidó “bare naked”

16/05/2019

“President” Juan Guaidó has just surrendered his virginity.

He did so on Monday when he ceded —without any resistance— to the U.S. military.

To make the announcement official, the city of Miami was chosen and a press conference was set up.

Sonia Osorio —journalist at El Nuevo Herald— reported that Guaidó asked via his representative in the US for “military assistance” to US Southern Command.

The excuse? To fight against the constitutional Government of Nicolas Maduro.

To remove any last vestige of doubts, Guaidó’s man in Washington, Gustavo Marcano, stated:

The support we are talking about is a “military cooperation.”

By his side, Members of the US Congress from the Democratic Party, Debbie Murcasel-Powell, Donna Shalala, Jose Javier Rodriguez, and Javier Fernandez were escorting him.

So far, Guaidó had been posing with a fig leaf. But now, he is just bare naked.
