Cuba and Liberia to strengthen bilateral ties

17/09/2019

The will to strengthen relations between Cuba and Liberia was ratified today during the meeting held by the Cuban Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs, Rogelio Sierra, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the African country, Henry B. Fahnbulleh.

During the friendly meeting, both sides committed themselves to strengthening bilateral relations in the political-diplomatic and cooperation fields.

They also exchanged on issues of mutual interest at the regional and international levels, according to the report sent from Monrovia to the MINREX site.

Fahnbulleh was accompanied by several officials of the Liberian Foreign Ministry, while on the Cuban side was present the Cuban Charge d'Affaires in Liberia, Osvaldo Cobacho.

The Republic of Liberia has kept good diplomatic and political relations with Cuba since its establishment on April 19, 1974.
