President Miguel Diaz-Canel highlighted in Twitter this Wednesday that thousands of Cubans have signed a statement of support for the Bolivarian Revolution of Venezuela, which Caracas will present at the United Nations.

Unconditional support for the heroic and brotherly people facing the aggressive US policy, Diaz-Canel underlines in a tweet.

On Tuesday, Venezuelan Ambassador to Cuba, Adam Chavez, received the signatures collected in workplaces, study centers and other Cuban sites that will accompany the letter of millions of Venezuelans addressed to the world body.
