

---

Topless FEMEN runs wild in Paris, cop rams into wall failing to catch activist (VIDEO)

28/10/2014

The video shows the half-naked ladies running away from the police, and dodging the law enforcers like skillful footballers. For some time, the police's attempts to catch the fleeing ladies failed.

At one point there is a slapstick moment where an officer trips over and slams into a building while chasing the flock of bare-chested females.

Topless feminist group FEMEN was at it again, and is beginning to prove too athletic for some cops to catch.

The video shows the half-naked ladies running away from the police, and dodging the law enforcers like skillful footballers. For some time, the police's attempts to catch the fleeing ladies failed.

At one point there is a slapstick moment where an officer trips over and slams into a building while chasing the flock of bare-chested females.