Tehran, Mar 3 (Prensa Latina) Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif thanked the World Health Organization (WHO) and friendly nations for their solidarity with Iran in combating the COVID-19.

'Grateful to @WHO & friendly nations for solidarity in fighting #COVID19, in face of US #EconomicTerrorism,' Zarif posted on Twitter.

On Monday, the WHO sent a United Arab Emirates military aircraft carrying six tons of medical equipment to help fight the virus in the Islamic Republic. The death toll from the coronavirus outbreak in Iran hit 66 and the number of infections has risen to more than 1,500.

Earlier, Foreign Ministry spokesman Abbas Mousavi described the US' offer to help the Islamic Republic fight against the spread of coronavirus as suspicious.
