
Jeb Bush: The New Super Reagan

15/09/2015

In a speech delivered last Saturday in Miami, the candidate for the Republican Party to the presidential elections in U.S. in 2016, Jeb Bush, urged Washington to recapture the world “leadership” in order to achieve global stability so that Cuba and Venezuela can be “free”.

“Think of all those people yearning after freedom, needing desperately the U.S. leadership. Think of all those people in Cuba and Venezuela”, stated the former governor of Florida during his campaign office in Miami.

“He also felt sorry” about the fact that the U.S. “is no longer a respected country” and, in that regard, he highlighted that once in office, “he will work” to restore the lost leadership because “the stronger we are, the safer”.

In spreading such message loud and clear, the new political offspring in the Bush dynasty, unbuttoned his shirt to show a t-shirt with the names of Ronald Reagan and George H. W. Bush, president and vice-president of the U.S. 1981-1989, respectively.

“That’s the team I believe in, the team of Reagan and Bush, because they were the ones who kicked out the Soviet Union and we were stronger”, said the politician, who was governor of Florida in the period 1999-2007.

That’s the very same team, by the way, which led the invasion of Grenada, Panama, and organized contra groups in Central America, and unleashed the Desert Storm. Would it be true that Miami's favorite candidate see the word leadership the same way his brother did? Let's not forget torturer George W. Bush used as an excuse war on terror to invade Iraq and Afghanistan.

Let's think, above all things, of those people (mostly civilians), who have lost their lives so that the U.S. could show the world, as chauvinist Jeb Bush wants, its "strength" and "safety".

Except for Jeb Bush, no one doubts the worldwide leadership the Empire has. However, they have changed missiles for bloodless coups in recent times, especially in Latin America. This is the case of Venezuela, Ecuador, Bolivia, Brazil, and even Cuba, a country with which they have resumed relations without lifting the blockade, and they have not stopped sending money to internal subversion either.

The Empire leadership is more visible after what occurred in Ukraine or the migratory wave striking Europe after the failure of the so-called Arab Springs' experiment and the endless dirty war against Syria.

Only the Cuban-born extremists and annexionists in Miami —Major of Miami Dade County Carlos Gimenez, Congressmen Mario Diaz-Balart and Carlos Curbelo, Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtinen were part of the crowd— believe the Empire is declining and therefore, applaud with enthusiasm the delusions of fascist supremacy of their new Super Reagan.
