Mick Jagger's representatives say the rock legend is expecting his eighth child with girlfriend Melanie Hamrick.

The Rolling Stone frontman's spokesperson, Fran Curtis, confirmed the news to USA TODAY.

Jagger, who turns 73 on July 26, already has seven children ranging in age from 45 to 17: Karis, Jade, Elizabeth, James, Georgia, Gabriel and Lucas. He also has two grandchildren.

Hamrick, 29, is a ballerina who has performed with the American Ballet Theatre in New York.

In May, fellow Rolling Stone Ron Wood became a father again at 68 after his wife, Sally Humphreys, gave birth to twin girls.
