
Puerto Rican Singer Ricky Martin to Perform in Bolivia

05/08/2016

La Paz, Aug 5 (Prensa Latina) Puerto Rican singer Ricky Martin will give two concerts in Bolivia in November, as part of his tour called One World Tour, the local radio reported today.

Martin will perform on November 5 in the eastern city of Santa Cruz and one day later, he will sing to La Paz, the capital of this South American country.

They estimated that each concert would last two hours and the audience would be able to listen to his greatest hits.

The cultural article detailed that Ricky Martin would present a varied show, combined with different rhythms, surrounded by an amazing light design and five high definition video screens.

The Puerto Rican singer will present a modern set design and will show his abilities for dancing, with perky choreographies.
