
First Armed Terrorists Start Leaving Aleppo

15/12/2016

Aleppo, Syria, Dec 15 (Prensa Latina) The first groups of armed terrorists started leaving Ramuseh, Aleppo, today morning, after the last negotiations come to fruition.

Amid a cloudy morning, with low temperatures and a sporadic rain, Syrian authorities should lead the jihadists to areas of the neighboring province of Idleb.

Prensa Latina reported the comings and goings in which the International Red Cross and the Syrian Arab Red Crescent are collaborating in the presence of representatives of the ceasefire coordination center at the Russian base in Hemymín, Latakia.

No UN member, some of them present in Aleppo, went to the evacuation site, reporters said.

Syrian army officials have preserved the place and the villagers told reporters their satisfaction because now, even in the midst of the destruction caused, the terrorists will leave the city free.
